Politics

In Victoriaville, Quebec, Liberal Leader Adolphe Godbout made some rather sweeping statements in which he charged Premier Maurice Duplessis with being a traitor, and his party, the Union Nationale, with dishonesty. He charged that the government was trying to divide Quebec from the rest of the country, and the party administration with "permitting that of provincial politics to swell election funds."

In New York, date of sentence of Madeleine Blavier, found guilty of infanticide, was moved from August 11 to September 13, so the case can fly to Europe to visit her mother and family in Belgium, France and Switzerland.

The latest thing in casting probably won't become very popular with most fishermen. At the Beach, New York, workmen dipped a steam shovel into eight feet of water and brought up 500-pound porpoise.

Jerusalem Scene of Wild Fighting

Arabs and Jews Cease Fire After Night of Fierce Battle

By Joseph C. Goodwin
CAIRO, July 17.—(AP)—Arabs and Jews ceased firing in Jerusalem today after a wild night of fighting, but the war was not over, despite hopes that a new truce was near for Palestine.

Arab Legion officers in Jerusalem said Jews died by the hundreds in holy city fighting during the night. The battle ended at a half second before the United Nations deadline at 4 a.m. (7 p.m., Edmonton time).

In the hot, hold-out Arab forces continued fighting inside Nazareth. The Israelis announced its capture yesterday.

Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator, was loaded back for Palestine, hoping of bringing the war to an end. He has fixed Sunday night as the truce deadline. The Jews have announced willingness to accept but the Arabs have not replied yet.

Of the Jerusalem battle, an Arab combat officer said the Jews were the fiercest fighters front line cracked, then "fled like sheep who had lost their shepherd."

The ring started operating in Ontario and Quebec less than one month ago, police said. His members used every trick known to the "hot act" trade: altered registration cards, false bills of sale, and false identity papers.

Names of the four men arrested were withheld before further arrests. One of them was said to be a 30-year-old ring leader.

Without exception, the ring stole cars in Ontario and sold them in Montreal, police said.

Stolen Auto Ring Broken

Police said today they may have broken up a $500,000 stolen automobile ring when they arrested four Toronto men last night and recovered nine cars valued at more than $30,000.

Two Canadians Killed In Flying Boat Crash

HONG KONG, July 17.—(AP)—A Catalina flying boat crashed landed and sank on its scheduled short hop from Macao to Hong Kong late yesterday, and 25 persons including two Canadians were reported to have perished.

The plane, operated by the Cathay Pacific Airways, was seen to go down about four miles west of Macao, across the Hong Kong coast, 40 miles east of this crown colony. It happened about 4:30 p.m.

P. J. Gillies, manager of the Macao Power Light Company, reported by telephone there and said he saw only one survivor among the 25 passengers and four crew members.

The Airways Company earlier had reported the rescue of Wong Yu of Hong Kong and said he suffered a broken arm.

There were no other details, nor any explanation as to how long was rescued.

Three Americans and two Canadians listed as Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stewart were reported among those aboard. The company's incomplete list carried no home towns.

However, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, he believed to be from Vancouver. People have been walking on the beach for 400 years.

UNCLE ANGLE NEWS TO HIM

WAINWRIGHT, July 17.—The Canadian Army "thought" it had Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery's nephew in camp here for a few days.

Somebody started a rumor that a Pte. D. B. Montgomery from Saskatchewan would ask the famed war leader "uncle," the rumor spread and Pte. Montgomery was starting to become really famous.

Then, the bubble burst. Somebody thought to ask Pte. Montgomery about it. It was news to him.

People have been walking on the beach for 400 years.

What is a Buree Tobacco?

It's one of the mildest tobaccos grown and therefore particularly useful for your pipe. Because of the texture of the Buree leaf, it burns slowly... it smokes cool... it stays lit!

For mellow, flavorful tobacco, you can't beat top-grade Buree leaf... it's expertly blended.

It's a pipe tobacco that new smokers especially enjoy... it's a pipe tobacco that new smokers especially enjoy.

Manning Releases Sacred Platform

Judge Report Heads Promises of Govt.

An undertaking to implement the "Judge Commission report as far as provincial revenue make possible" is given among the more important planks in the 10-point platform of the Social Credit government released this morning.

The sections of the platform which are specifically dealt with in the government's announced program include:

1. Increased educational grants.
2. Road grants to municipalities based on motor, vehicle and fuel oil tax revenue of the province and construction and maintenance of provincial highways through towns and villages.
3. The province to assume 60 per cent of the cost of indigent relief, mothers' allowance and child welfare.
4. All costs of Old Age Pensions and blind pensions to be assumed by the government.
5. Respect of the wild lands tax and abolition of the business tax on farms.
6. Payments of grants in lieu of taxes on government buildings used for commercial enterprises.

TWO MONTHS

The Judge report was compiled during a two-month series of meetings held in J. W. Judge, sitting in a one-man committee during the summer of 1947.

The report was tabled at the last session of the legislature, but the government announced at that time implementation of the report would have to await further study. At that time the government undertook to prepare a legislative program for submission to the next sitting of the assembly.

The ten planks of the government platform are:

1. A greatly expanded program for development of natural resources with the crown retaining ownership of natural resources, except for land and further development of a small hold back.
2. Constant attention to the needs of agriculture with a greatly expanded program of aid to farmers.
3. Development of power resources and encouragement of rural electrification in accordance with the needs of the people.

WELFARE

4. Further expansion of the government's program of social health and welfare, which already includes such features as free maternal hospitalization.
5. Implementation of the Judge report.

WHOOOPS, BOYS, WHAT A HAIRCUT!

HOLLYWOOD, July 17.—(AP)—Woody Woodpecker, in preparation for the current song hit, yesterday inspired a new haircut for the kiddies.

The Woody Woodpecker outfit has just come off hair style. At the hair salon, line. All you boys have to do to sport one this summer is to have your barber trim your hair so it bristles up from your crown. Form a cupid's bow. Woody's, Tate says it's as cool as a cucumber for the kiddies.

For the girls, the Woody cut involves the same procedure, except that the "cupid's bow" is formed of soft curls. The hair must be brushed smooth in back.

Two Directors Leave Exhibition Board

The curtain will ring down tonight on Edmonton's 70th annual summer fair.

It will go down in history as one of the most successful despite being rained out for two successive days.

It will be the final summer fair for Charles W. Wilson, managing director of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, who tendered his resignation to the association at a meeting immediately preceding the fair.

A second veteran official of the exhibition, a honours man, also left for several decades, also will retire this year.

Mr. Bennett has intimated to the directors his intention to resign. However, he will carry on his duties until the end of the Association's fiscal year, October 31.

HERE'S BOON TO BRITISH HOUSEWIFE

LONDON, July 17.—(CP)—A new ration-free compound which can take the place of four ingredients—fat, sugar, eggs and milk—in cooking is being sold in London stores at half a crown (60 cents) a pound.

It is being imported from Denmark. A ministry of food official said: "It looks like white sugar—in fact, you can eat it as that if you wish."

"Take and blend it with milk as you can with adding water, heating it up and sifting in the flour."

Pair Remanded On Abortion Charges Here

Two men faced with charges of performing illegal operations were remanded to August 20 in police court Friday.

They are Thomas F. Reid, U.S. Air base, and Matt Doucette.

Neil D. McLean, defense counsel for Reid, when told the Crown would proceed with the case immediately, asked for dismissal of the charge.

Dismissal was refused by Magistrate A. L. Mifflin.

Bail was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000.

Reid was arrested at the door of a city hotel room in which a body of 13-year-old Verlie Holmes, Sunnybrook, had been found June 22.

A coroner's inquest returned the verdict that she had died from the results of attempting to procure an abortion with the aid of pills and a vacuum pump.

Matt Doucette was remanded to August 20 when the Crown prosecutor stated a necessary witness was out of town.

Bail was set at $5,000.

WAINWRIGHT, July 17.—The Canadian Army brought the mountain to Mohawk in a figurative sense here this week.

Here's what happened.

About 300 soldiers of the Canadian Army in Wainwright forced summer camp liked the open air, the army reasons, and the dignity of service in a uniform so much they decided to make a career.

So the 35 asked their unit officers how about it.

The usual procedure is for an applicant to apply to Western Army Headquarters or the local recruiting depot. The recruiting officer of the district later notifies them whether they should report for an interview, after which prospective recruits are interviewed and screened.

That kind of ruddy tale takes considerable time.

So the officers decided on a different technique.

Recruiting Depot No. 10 was moved from Calgary to Wainwright.

Interviews, medical examinations and everything necessary to enlistment was carried out.

Eighteen of the 35 were accepted for service in the Canadian Army. The remainder are from Prairie CONSTRUCTION work on three major bridges in the province will be started during this year, according to an announcement from the provincial department of public works today.

One of these will be the Smoky River bridge over the Smoky River at Goodwin Crossing near Cessano, east of Grande Prairie.

The new bridge will have scores of spans for settlers doing business in Grande Prairie from east of the river.

Use of the new bridge to be started this year will replace the dilapidated structure at Empress which was washed away two years ago.

Clock Okay Elks Say

Exhibition visitors looking at Jasper East have thanked the Elks Club and wondered.

Some have wondered about the letters R.P.C.E. (Reverend and Protective Order of the Elks) but have wondered why the hands of the clock always stand at the hour of eleven.

Some have taken the trouble to telephone the club advising members of the Elks Club and wondered.

Mr. Drew said he had been advised by the attorney-general of the law before the end of the present year.

Dominion Highway Commission

The resolution of the Edmonton city council asking for the appointment of a Dominion highway commission adds to the considerable volume of public opinion throughout Canada that has pointed out the urgent need for such a body.

One of the most pressing requirements in this country is the completion of a trans-Canada highway system.

That project has languished, not because anybody opposes it, but because there has been no specific official body in Ottawa whose business it would be to promote it.

Because the trans-Canada highway system is everybody's business it is nobody's business. That is to say, there is no definite focal point upon which the demands of Canadians for this system may be directed.

At present the federal government appears to regard the project as an admirable undertaking to have up its sleeve in case there is a sharp need for relieving unemployment.

The creation of a Dominion highway commission would effect a change in that dangerous and negative viewpoint.

A trans-Canada highway system is an economic necessity. Ottawa must be made to see it.

More Travelling Exhibitions

The art collection of the Philadelphia Water Color Club now being shown at the Edmonton Exhibition, is a fine example of the sort of thing that should be continually available to the view of Edmonton art lovers.

It is true that through the efforts of R. W. Hedley of the Museum of Arts a certain number of splendid exhibits do trickle through Edmonton. Some of these have been excellent.

But there should be more of them.

With the number of first class collections on the North American continent there should be a steady stream of travelling art exhibitions throughout the Canadian West.

Two or more years ago, the federal government evinced an encouraging interest in the development of art appreciation in Canada.

That appreciation could be developed in no better way than in facilitating the movement of the best paintings throughout the country.

Men Are Known By Their Fruits

There can be no doubt about the plain meaning of Christ's words as set down in the seventh chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel when He says:

"By their fruits ye shall know them." This sentence is amplified and clarified by a later one:

"Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven."

What Jesus had immediately in mind was probably the formalism of the Scribes and Pharisees of His day, sects zealously concerned with the form of religious observance but whose lives were notably barren of kindness and charity.

These people continually cried "Lord, Lord," but in their daily lives they exhibited few of those virtues of compassion and love that Christ held to be the essence of good living.

His parable of the Pharisee and the publican in the temple made the contrast very clear.

But in this particular emphasis on the fruits of Christian life, Jesus uttered a warning to Christians in all times to come.

It is not enough to go through the motion of worship. It is not enough to proclaim one's religion and make professions about it.

The ultimate test is in the kind of life you lead, in the good you do to others, in your acceptance of all men as brothers under the common Fatherhood of God.

And right there, of course, is the weakness in the religion of so many people today.

So many go to church regularly and plausibly but fail in the test of Christian behavior.

So many claim to love God with all their hearts and their souls and their minds but give the lie to that claim by clearly failing to love their neighbors as themselves.

So many give lip service to religion and yet fail to live their religion. By their fruits they are known.

ODDS AND ENDS

Lively Entertainment

Gories of Yesteryear

I am quite aware that one of the chief symptoms of our age is the tendency to compare the present unfavorably with the past. Nevertheless, having visited the midway of the current Exhibition, I am constrained by a deep passion for truth to let you know that the midway of my childhood corner can still give the following observations on my mind.

Please take my word for it that I am finding no fault with the midway. Not being a connoisseur of midways, I am prepared to believe that this midway is a high class midway as midways go.

It is true that it seems to me that entertainment has deteriorated sadly since I was a boy. And as proof of that I should like to make a few odious comparisons.

Now I don't remember seeing any midway in my early youth. But there were endless of circuses, at least three a year, and anybody who would condescend to say that a midway comes even close to rivaling a circus, is in my opinion, a candidate for the lunatic asylum.

The relative entertainment value for instance, of an undulating hippopotamus and a midway leg show is too obvious for discussion. The former is as superior to the latter in grace and beauty that it is almost sacrilegious to mention the two in the same breath.

Although, to be perfectly fair, there is in some cases a haunting resemblance.

Grown Hair On Bird's Beak
One old-timer entertainment feature that has long since disappeared from the sight of men is the medicine show.

The medicine show travelled from town to town and consisted of a small horse-drawn wagon equipped with a back platform, a medicine chest, a large bottle of "snake oil," and a large bottle of "snake oil."

The medicine show would cure everything from measles to leprosy.

The medicine show would cure a person's cold in a promising cough and, as soon as the person was cured, the medicine show would cure their sickening headache, and the entertainers would rattle off a few more lines of "snake oil."

By Harold L. Weir

Smiles

Then the spiegle would go into action. He would recite the virtues of his sovereign remedy, usually made of snake oil and mystic herbs known only to a remote tribe of Indians.

So eloquent and impassioned would be his pleas that the populace would crowd around him by the hundreds. And usually some enthusiastic in the gathering would have his arm around him with the specific and immediately find relief.

Or perhaps a half-dressed spectator would have his hand placed on the shoulder of the medicine showman, and then, after a moment, he would be seen to be in a state of collapse.

Editor, Bulletin.—In view of the impending provincial general election, a number of requests from party supporters and prominent members of the Independent Conservative Party, I quote in part from a statement on behalf of the Federal Association of the Progressive Conservative Party in Alberta made August 20, 1947, at the time Mr. Page announced that the Independent Party would remain active. This appeared in letter form in the "Edmonton Press."

"At its last convention the Progressive-Conservative Party decided to continue to support the Independent Party provincially. It empowered the executive to call a special convention at any time, having in mind the possibility of the Independent Party's activities and a review of Progressive-Conservative Party activities."

What About Other Child?

Trail's End and a New Beginning

IT WAS a roughneck trail that started 1,300 miles away, "down North" almost in the Arctic Circle.

There at Whitehorse was a complete, modern oil refinery . . . acres of towers and pipes and tanks . . . built to fuel the first line of defense against Jap invasion but of little use there in peacetime.

Here in the Edmonton area was a need for just such a refinery, and Leduc gave promise of adequate crude oil supplies.

Imperial Oil engineers put their heads together. To design and build a new refinery in Edmonton would cost millions, take three years. To pick the Whitehorse refinery up out of the wilderness and move it to Edmonton would cost just as much—but with luck it would take just half as long.

The decision was made without hesitation. For with a nation-wide need for oil products, every day was important.

SO the long, hard trail was broken. Some 300 men trekked out to their jobs and posts along the route.

At Whitehorse, the demolition gangs went to work with crane and gin pole and blow-torch to take the refinery apart.

The dismantled equipment was loaded on gigantic trucks and tractors, the like of which had never been seen in the Northland.

Shuttling back and forth between Whitehorse and the railhead at Dawson Creek, these trucks covered 400,000 miles, hauled 7,000 tons, before the last piece of equipment was nursed along the icy highway. At Dawson Creek the refinery was loaded piecemeal on flat-cars for the last lap of its journey to Edmonton.

It was a transportation task unique in Canada's history. But at last the job was done. "Trail's end" came in just 17 months—one month ahead of schedule.

TODAY, with the official opening of Imperial's Edmonton refinery, a new chapter opens in the oil history of the West.

It marks the beginning of a new manufacturing program by Imperial Oil which—in combination with the production of crude oil from Leduc—will have far-reaching effects.

To Canada, it means a saving of about $6,000,000 a year in scarce United States dollars.

To the West, it means a growing self-sufficiency in oil products which will in time save western householders, farmers and businessmen many dollars on their purchases of gasoline, kerosene, tractor fuel and fuel oil.

To Edmonton it means a direct saving to the users of power fuels and heating oils. It means more money in circulation; the refinery has cost $8,700,000 and all but $1,000,000 was spent for the dismantling, moving and re-erection of the plant. An increase in the refinery's capacity at further cost is contemplated. The refinery means also 300 permanent new jobs—wherever possible filled by residents of Edmonton and district.

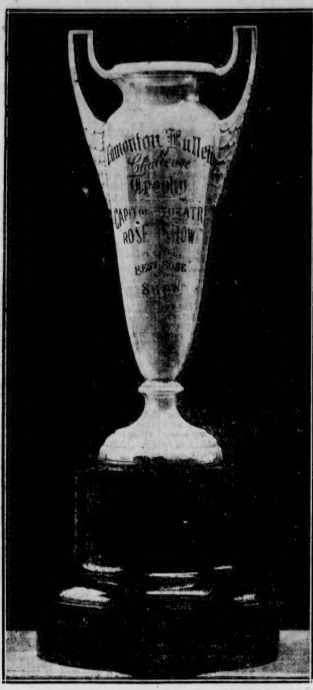

Today as this new Edmonton industry is formally opened Imperial Oil acknowledges the contribution which has been made by the many men and women who did the planning and the work and those whose cooperation assured the success of the project.

If the establishment of this refinery within a record space of time in the face of great odds is a creditable achievement it is to these persons, scattered over some 1,300 miles of the Canadian Northwest, that thanks must go.

Free Long Shots Breeze to Victory

Chimo Starts Run of Big Race Prices

By Stan Mohr
(Bulletin Staff Editor)

The annual fair race meeting is a day ahead of itself. Traditionally getaway day—the last 24 hours of any meet—is supposed to see a liberal sprinkling of long shots making it to the winner's circle.

However, at least three of Friday's winners—Yraglac, Chimo and Bar-Gan King—described to win longer, away day or not get away day. They were right there in last stride, big as life, and the payoff was a China.

Yraglac—the Wrong-Way Corrigan of prairie racing—won his name means nothing unless you see it backward give a short—grabbed for the ring in the third race. The mutuels gave it back better than 11-to-1 those who held win tickets.

THEN CAME CHIMO

In the fourth it was Chimo. Winnipeg Ace Filly's three-year-old chestnut, and the payoff was $21.45 for a deuce.

Now hold your hats, particularly those of you who would've bet Bar-Gan King on some know-it-all you off.

This hard-knocking son of once-penned Pagan Queen made a bold move of the field in the fifth race. When Roy Russell finally gave the word coming off the gate, the gelding quickly went to the top and was off by itself all the while the stretch the by many lengths.

When it came time to hang out the numbers on the payoff board those who bet Bar-Gan's number (8759) fairly screamed "bleep."

Quite apart from the monetary protection of Yraglac, Chimo and Bar-Gan King, the winners of the garden Stakes claimed most of the attention.

The kindergarten Stakes were supposed to be the tip-off on what's to come when the July 10 race is run. The winners of the break and she promptly proved money. This being the case Time Belle, the featured Kindergarten Stakes claimed most of the attention.

Soccer-Playing Scot Cottons to Edmonton

By Bert Greer
Alberta appears to be an attractive spot, even to those who live in Glasgow, Scotland.

That's why George Burton left the home of the "oatmeal munchers" and headed for the land of sunshine, honey and Chinook winds.

George arrived from Glasgow on Monday, and has definitely decided to make his home in Edmonton. He's pretty well established now and has three or four good prospects for jobs—besides he is a member of the North Side Legion soccer team.

He made his debut in soccer circles Friday night, scoring one of Legion's three goals as the club registered a 3-1 victory over stars from the rest of the league in a tune-up for the Legion's clash with B.C. representatives in the Dominion Football Association playoffs here July 24 and 26.

Burton learned the facts about Edmonton in the library back home and decided to come here on spec. He's not 26 years-of-age and is quite some football player.

WITH AMATEUR CLUB
Before he was he played with Cartha Athletic, an amateur team, where he was he hosted the sphere for an Army team, and after hostilities played with a London eleven.

Right now he's catching up on a bit of calories he was unable to obtain overseas and is "enjoying every minute of life in Edmonton."

KEEN MATCH
Although it was merely designed to sharpen up the Legionnaires for the B.C. invasion, the soccer match was one of the best staged at Clarke Stadium this season.

Territorial play was well divided and it was only the superior fitness of the Legion club in the danger zone that brought victory.

The first half was scoreless, with the goalies playing a prominent role.

Gillings put the Legion ahead in the second half when he scored a goal. McDonald added a cross from Jack Wilce. Ken Watson headed the ball into the net from D. Birmingham, but Burton held the help after a lead Legion never relinquished.

Edmonton clinched the game after a past passing bout with Dave Gillings and Bill Thomas. Lesley Dyer.

Legion—Norman, Dempster, Skidmore, Martin, Johnson, Arken, and Budy Lottus, at the clubhouse. Edmonton—Birmingham, Watson, Miller, and Lesley Dyer.

Red Deers Dave Dixon, who has been scoring the fairways in that Central Alberta city, will be making a bid for the Edmonton club this weekend. They are making a bid for the Edmonton club this weekend. They are making a bid for the Edmonton club this weekend.

Hamilton's Ancaster golf course where Joe Stoddard and Frank Stranahan are battling for the Canada's premier amateur golf honor, is no picnic, particularly for the average player.

Brady Proves Hero As Bufts Shade Esks

CALGARY, July 17. (CP)—Finishing his hurling chores despite a bruised ankle suffered in the eighth inning as he set up the winning run, Lloyd Bradley of Buftons triumphantly won his own game 7-6 against the Edmonton Eskimos in the final game of the 1948-49 Inter-city baseball season.

Bradley got two hits in four innings, but he reached first on an error in the eighth to provide the winning run. He hurt his ankle sliding into second base and was replaced by Courtney Davis in the eighth.

Three hits and two runs were scored by the Bufts in the game. The Eskimos scored three runs in the first inning.

Bradley returned to the mound in the ninth with his ankle taped and started a double play that helped put down an Eskimo rally.

Brooks, who shared playing honors with Gibson, who with a four out of five record, drove in the winning run in the eighth and Melville in the third and Melville in the third.

UPSETTING THE DOPE BOOK COMPLETELY. Bar-Gan King romps home Friday far in the van to return the biggest price of the day—49.85, 18.00 and 6.55. He came from far behind to take the sixth in a walk at the Exhibition track with Jockey R. Russell up.

Joe Stoddard, Stranahan Matching Shots

HAMILTON, July 17. (CP)—Hamilton's rangy Joe Stoddard is Canada's hope for the Canadian amateur golf championship.

The six-foot-five native son goes up against defending champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., Saturday in 36 holes of match play for the title.

Stoddard won his way into the final Friday afternoon by defeating Walter McElroy of Vancouver, one up after 36 holes of the most nerve-racking play of the tournament.

The two battled it right down to the last hole, playing for the last five in a dramatic rain.

Stranahan defeated another Canadian, Larry Braden, 3 and 2 in the semi-final before the pre-cision play of the defending champion.

Some 500 spectators followed the two sets of players around the course during the day, about even in the match between the two.

Batting Motormen Twice Lump Outmen

Kelly, Treseder Hurl Cubs to 7-4, 3-1 Wins

The sport world loves a batter, a guy who won't quit, no matter what the odds. Same applies to teams.

This is probably why Laurel Harney and his Cubs are the toast of Renfrew Park despite the fact that they hold down the bottom rung of the Big Four baseball league ladder.

Friday night the Motormen played fast and loose with the feelings of Calgary Purdy 90 by hitting off the league pace-setters in both ends of a twin-winner.

In the last-innate hit Kelly, of the Calgary Purdy, expertly manhandled the Oilers with the exception of the second inning, in the fourth the outpouring got to the Californian for all their runs.

Big Eric Knick was on the ground, along with a pair of error in the Cub inner works, did most of the damage.

Big Eric Choukoun took on the hurling when singles over the clinger in the fifth. They climbed 11 over the belly Purty Choukoun for four hits and three runs to go ahead 5-4. Jack Bartlett, Ray Canham and Bill Leung were the big hitters of the inning.

Final pair of Cub counters came in the form of Bill Leung's single to centre field sparking the rally.

Saving to Canada Of Over $6 Million Seen

Another candle on the Alberta "coming of age" industrial cake will be added today with the official opening of Imperial Oil Limited's $8,700,000, 6,000-barrel-a-day refinery in Edmonton.

The unit will go into production with a capacity of 4,000 barrels a day, to be stepped up to 6,000 by the end of the year when other construction is completed.

The refinery goes into operation just 17 months after the discovery well at Leduc established the Edmonton field as the largest known source of crude oil in Canada.

A further increase in the plant's refining capacity to 11,000 barrels daily at a further cost of $2,000,000, is now under construction by the company.

Imperial Oil officials estimate the plant will save the country approximately $6,000,000 in dollars by reducing imports of petroleum products and an estimated $1,000,000 yearly on transportation which is paid in U.S. dollars.

MORE ADDITIONS

Plant on the 300-acre site is producing gasoline, kerosene, diesel and heavy fuel. From a crude distillation unit, and a "cracking"

unit, to break down heavier oils into fuel and other products, it now

under construction.

Workability of manufacturing plant is also being considered.

Normally, only pump and control houses are involved.

The refinery was bought from War Surplus for $1,000,000.

Moving and reassembling it brought the total up to $12,000,000.

It was dismantled last winter and is now being reassembled.

First oil to the refinery was being trucked June 7, at a starting rate of 2,000 barrels a day. This has now been stepped up to 4,000 barrels.

An 18-in. pipeline, which will join the existing line, from Leduc to Nisku, to the refinery, is now

under construction.

Alberta Makes Gain As Refinery Opens

Some sections were transferred over the Alaska highway to Dawson Creek for shipment to Edmonton by rail.

It is estimated that moving of the Whitehorse refinery saved approximately 14 months of the time which would have been required to build a new refinery.

The plant draws 1,500 gallons of water per minute, from the Saskatchewan river, for use in the four boilers.

By reusing the water, the boilers handle what would be equivalent of 2,000,000 gallons of water daily (roughly equivalent to the consumption by the city of Edmonton on a hot day) and generate 80,000 pounds of steam each.

CURRY OIL

A Skinner plant has been installed to prevent return of stray oil into the river.

The plant will be supervised by H. H. (Herry) Moor, a graduate of the University of Toronto.

Opening ceremonies today will be attended by G. L. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors, E. G. Hux, vice-president and director, C. E. Carson, director, and George Lawson, public relations officer.

Venezuela is the third largest oil-producing country in the world.

Big U.S. Firms Granting Pay Increases to Workers

By John Dauphinee
NEW YORK, July 17. — (CP) — More than 275,000 workers in the United States steel and automobile industries were granted pay raises yesterday.

Among companies announcing wage increases were two of the country's largest employers, United States Steel and the Ford Motor Company.
When the United States Steel wage boost was announced, several other steel companies followed suit. Republic Steel Corporation, Cleveland, said it would match the United States Steel increase for its 65,000 employees. Portsmouth Steel Corporation, Portsmouth, O., said it would grant a 3.5-cent an hour raise to its 4,000 workers, but not state the amount. West. Steel Company, Weston, W. Va., said it had granted its more than 10,000 employees an average increase of 31 cents an hour.

Armco Steel Corporation, Mid-

Their action gave new momentum to organized labor's campaign for a third round of post-war wage gains. Price increases are expected to result.
Early this year much of United States industry seemed determined firmly to resist any third round moves. But industry's front was breached May 25 when General Motors, faced with a

HOT WATERS

THERE had been considerable argument over the matter of hot water among the Teenie Weenies for several weeks. It's true that the Chinaman did most of the talking and his words often grew as hot as the water he talked about. Of course the Chinaman has more interest in hot water than any other Teenie Weenie because he does the village washing in the old teapot where he lives. Doing a village washing with water that has to be heated in the metal top of a catsup bottle and on top of a one-inch pipe-tee stove is rather trying at times.

"Lookie!" argued the Chinaman, pointing to half an English walnut shell basket of soiled table linen. "It take maybe flive, slix kettle of waters to washie that. Me all time heat kettle of waters to washie part of linens, then me have to fill up kettles and make more hot waters to washie more. Me all time waitin' for hot waters. Never have plenty hot waters."

"What you want is a hot water plant," said the Old Soldier with a wooden leg.

"Yes, pretty muchie," answered the Chinaman. "If me no get pretty soon, me all time stlike. Me no washie."

After considerable argument and talking over plans, the men finally agreed to build the Chinaman a hot water plant for his laundry. On the dump heap where the big folks threw away their trash, the little men found a small salmon can which they rolled to the village for a boiler. Several Teenie Weenie wheelbarrow loads of stone were brought up for the fire pit under the boiler. The fortunate discovery of a discarded atomizer tube provided the pipe to carry the hot water into the teapot. Mortar made from clay and lime was liberally used in building a stone wall on which the boiler could be set.

It took almost a whole day to set the salmon can onto the stone work. The can had to be pulled up by a Teenie Weenie block and tackle, and a special derrick had to be built to handle such a heavy weight. When the can was in place the atomizer tube was joined to the bottom of the can and then run through a hole made in the teapot window. The Turk made a tiny faucet for the end of the pipe, and the work was finished.

"Where are you going to get your water?" the Old Soldier asked the delighted Chinaman.

"Plenty of waters when it laime," said the Chinaman, pointing towards the sky. "Me laime, then me all time get waters from clock. Me then build fire under same and me have plenty hot waters."
